CONGRESSIONAL DOCUMENTS.

Note.— At the commencement of the second session of the 13th congress, in December, 1813, a consecutive series of numbers, as at present, was first applied to the published documents of the house of representatives. The senate papers have such a number from 1815, first session, 14th congress. The following enumeration gives the titles of all the separate documents in this library, to the end of the second session of the 13th congress. The completeness of any collection subsequent to that date may be ascertained by observing the continuity of the numbers. Since Dec. 1813, each series of documents published has its own index, and of late years a copy of the index has been bound with every volume. In the following enumeration certain words of frequent occurrence are thus abbreviated: Pres., for President; Sec. St., for Secretary of State; Sec. Treas., for Secretary of the Treasury; Sec. navy, for Secretary of the Navy; Sec. war, for Secretary of War; P. M. G., for Postmaster-General; Com., for Committee; Cms., for Commissioners; Sen., for Senate; Ho. R., for House of Representatives; Dep., for department; Doc., for documents, etc.

INDEX TO CONGRESSIONAL DOCUMENTS.

(PREFATORY NOTE.)

The following alphabetical list of subjects refers to all papers of public interest in the series of Congressional documents, from the first session of the 18th Congress (1823) to the second session of the 35th (1859), inclusive. The reasons for commencing with the 18th Congress will be apparent from the following statements.

The set in the Public Library, previous to the former date, though remarkably full, is not complete, nor can it possibly be made so. There is not probably more than one, if indeed there be one, complete set in existence. Moreover, there is no method of referring to the earlier documents, inasmuch as they were not numbered consecutively, nor bound up in volumes uniformly. An index to executive communications made to the House, and to reports of committees, from the 1st to the end of the 14th Congress, forms Ex. Doc. 163 of 18th Cong. 1st Session, and bound with it in the set in this Library is a similar index for the 15th, 16th, and 17th Congresses. The former contains references not only to printed but to manuscript documents. The impossibility of making a complete collection of the public documents prior to 1823, and the difficulty of making satisfactory references applicable to all sets of them for an index like this, are however less to be regretted since the publication of the "American State Papers" in twenty-one vols. folio. These volumes, which are furnished with minute and accurate indexes, contain not only a republication of all congressional papers of general interest prior to the year 1823, but also many others of value selected from the unpublished files. The congressional documents since 1823 may therefore be regarded as supplementary to the "American State Papers." They constitute nearly 1,000 volumes. No general index to them has ever been made. An index to the Executive Documents and Reports of Committees of the House of Representatives, from the 18th to the 21st Congress was published by order of the House in 1832. A similar index, extending from the 22d to the 25th Congress, was published in 1940 or 1941. Neither of these contained the documents of the Senate.

In the following list are omitted nearly all papers relative to private claims; first, because they are not of general interest; and, secondly, because full lists of them have been published [see above under United States, Miscellaneous documents, and below under Private Claims]. All reference has been omitted also to bills, motions, resolutions, petitions, and memorials, because they possess no permanent and general interest, and belong rather to the journal than to the documents, while the introduction of them here would swell the index beyond all reasonable limits. The aim has been merely to do the best, which the limited time and space assignable to this portion of the Catalogue would allow, towards making useful a large and, it must be said, ill-digested collection of papers, many of them possessing great interest and value, but hitherto buried, as it were, out of sight and almost beyond search.

The manuscript titles from which this index has been condensed are preserved in the Library, and constitute as full an index as would ever perhaps be required; but the expense of printing and the inconvenience of bulk, have demanded here the utmost compression of both headings and references, not however, it is hoped, such as to render the index unintelligible or unsatisfactory to any one who will keep in mind the following

EXPLANATIONS.

The Arabic figures preceding the colon denote the Congress.

The numerals i, ii, iii, following the colon denote the Session.

The letter R. denotes Reports of Committees.

The letter E. denotes Executive Documents.

The letter S. denotes Senate Documents.

The letters H. M. denote House Miscellaneous.

The letters S. M. denote Senate Miscellaneous.

The letters H. R. denote House Reports.

The letters S. R. denote Senate Reports.

The figures following these capital letters denote the number of the document.

The semicolon is used at the end of the references to any one congress.

Thus:—The abbreviated reference, 18:ii E.198, R.20, S.116; 19:i E.96, written out fully would be, 18th Congress, 2d Session, Executive Document No. 198, Reports of Committees No. 20, Senate Document No. 116; 19th Cong., 1st Session, Executive Document No. 96.

It should be remarked that the same document is often placed in two or more classes, but in this Index is usually referred to only once.

 Note.—The first law providing for the survey of the coast of the United States was approved 10 Feb., 1807. The survey was commenced under the superintendence of F. R. Hassler in 1816, and stopped by act of congress, 14 April, 1818. The papers relating to these operations are included in the American state papers, Class commerce and navigation, in Senate document 143, 15th Congress, 1st Session, and in Volume 2, new series, of the Transactions of the American philosophical society, Philadelphia. The law of 1807 was renewed in 1832, and the survey was recommenced under Mr. Hassler, whose reports extend to 1843, and are followed by those of A. D. Bache from 1844 to the present time.

UNITED STATES. Congressional docs., Index, continued.

PATENTS. [The first general law relative to patents in the United States was passed 10 April, 1790. A new act was passed 21 Feb., 1793. Under resolutions of the house of representatives, 13 Jan., 1812, and 2 April, 1830, and the law of 3 July, 1832, lists of patents issued and patents expired were presented to congress by the secretary of state,—the patent office forming, till the organization of the department of the interior, a branch of the department of state. The important papers relative to patents prior to 1832, may be found in the American State Papers, Class Miscellaneous. Lists of patents from 1832 to 1836 may be found by the following references:] (1833) 18: i E.25; (1834) 18: ii E.23; (1835) 19: i E.22; (1836) 19: ii E.27; (1837) 20: i E.34; (1838) 20: ii E.50; (1839) 21: i E.16; (1840) 21: ii E.40, 50; (1841) 21: i E.39; (1842) 22: i E.70, 120; (1843) 23: i E.58, 59; (1844) 23: ii E.55, 58; (1845) 24: i E.63, 64; (1846) 24: ii E.174, 175. [A new act, reorganizing the patent office and establishing the office of commissioner, was passed 4 July, 1836. The building, erected in 1830, was burnt and the models and records destroyed, 15 Dec., 1836. The annual reports of the commissioners since that date may be found by the following references:] By H.
